Tourism Management is an international journal published 6 times a year, in February, April, June, August, October and December by Elsevier Science Ltd. It serves as both a long-term reference source and a practical tool. The Editors invite the submission of articles on the research, policy and practice of tourism which are of interest to both academics and practitioners. These may be full-length papers, which are subject to a double-blind refereeing system, short reports or current issue pieces. Letters to the Editor, critically examining articles published in the journal, are welcomed. Detailed guidelines on the preparation and submission of items for Tourism Management are provided on the inside back cover.
